

Marina the Moss

Starting her social media career June 2015, Marina, being a certified fashion designer, decided to share her pictures and thoughts about fashion and life with her followers. Having a unique sense for style and trends combined with her hearty, unpretentious presentations, she generates an authentic and credible reputation for herself and her partners. Targeting fashion-, sport- and lifestyle oriented female readers, her social channels generate high impact campaigns resulting in great value for her clients.
